

Barron's Names Rick Bloom one of Top Financial Advisors in U.S.

Rick Bloom has been named one of the Top Financial Advisors in the United States for 2015 -2016 by Barron's magazine.

Bloom was chosen for being one of the nation's most productive financial advisors. Advisors that made the list were ranked based on a variety of factors, including assets under management, revenue produced for the firm, regulatory record, quality of practice and philanthropic work.

"This is a great honor for me, but it is really recognition of the great financial team we have at Bloom Asset Management and the wonderful clients who place their faith in us to help them reach their financial goals," Bloom said.
